

Band Boosters Plan Public Dance

A public dance is to be given by the Lincoln-Way Band Boosters Feb. 22 in the school gym, it was decided at last week's meeting of the group. Proceeds from the affair will be used for the benefit of the band, it was announced.

The dance music will be provided by Buddy Everett's orchestra. The dance will begin at 8 o'clock and run until 1 a.m. The public is welcome.

At last week's meeting the Boosters also made plans for the coming Decal sale. This is an annual event. The Decals are sent out thru the mail when they are available, which is expected to be the early part of January.

A "Miss Decal" contest is being planned in conjunction with the sale. A prospective candidate will be selected from each of the towns represented in the band. The amount of Decal sales in each community will determine the winner. Miss Decal, 1969, will be crowned at a dance to be given in the Spring, it was announced.

Other activities discussed were the band and choral contests to be held at Lincoln-Way High School on Mar. 15 and Apr. 19, the 8th grade banquet to be served by the Boosters. Also discussed was the tentative band trip to Virginia Beach in June and the summer band camp.

After adjournment, Robert Taylor, band director, showed films of the 1968 band camp, and of the marching band at the recent football games.

Refreshments were served.

School Gets Extension To Solve Water Problem

One of the sources of surface water in the sewer lines was brought to light at the meeting of the Mokena Village Board when Gene Morrall, principal at Carpenter Street School appeared to ask for an extension of time to complete the work of eliminating such water.

It was simple to divert gutter water. All that had to be done there was to cut the connections of the downspouts from the eave troughs and this was done. But there is other water getting into the sanitary sewer from other drains about the school, it was said.

Morrall said the board is delving back into the earlier days of the school in an endeavor to locate these possible leaks rather than embark on a wholesale digging project.

Reports from other municipalities show that control of surface water is a common problem, except in those areas where there are adequate storm sewers.

The school was given until Jan. 8, to complete the job.

Frany Grey, Mokena and Frankfort real estate dealer, appeared before the board with a request for rezoning of approximately 50 acres west of St. Mar Church, off 195th St., to permit the building there of multiple dwellings, along with single family residences referred to the planning commission.

This is the property formerly owned by Leo Marcoux and he asked for a reclassification so the lot frontages could be reduced to 65 feet for single family residences. There were several meetings but in the end the village and Marcoux could not get together.

The village balked at the 65-foot lots and also stipulated that any home built there should be custom built. When the subject was first broached Marcoux was accompanied by a builder whose developments ran to pre-fabricated dwellings. Marcoux later sold the property.

Vehicle Tags Available At Frankfort

Motor vehicle owners of Frankfort can purchase their village stickers beginning Dec. 2, they were reminded by Village Clerk Walter Pfaff. The stickers will be on sale at the village hall.

The fees are $5 for all cars and trucks under 24,000 pounds. Those of 24,000 pounds have a license fee of $7.50 and over 24,000 the fee is $10.

Feb. 1 will be the deadline for the purchase of village stickers for motor vehicles. After that date the fees will be double, plus court costs and fines if arrest tickets are issued.

Navarro, Devine State Grid Team

Two of Sandburg's football players who won conference and area honors have been selected on the All-State prep grid team by the Chicago Daily News -- Mike Navarro and Tom Devine.

Navarro was selected as a fullback and Devine as a center.

Navarro set a school record for ground gained, 1,149 and also the record for most touchdowns in a season, 18.

Devine, who also did the place kicking for the Eagles, scored 31 points on conversions this year, which is also a record at Sandburg.

Both boys are seniors. Navarro is 6'1" and weighs 200 pounds; Devine is 10 pounds lighter and stands 5 feet 10 inches.

Six schools, Sandburg, Chicago Mendel Catholic, Evanston, La Salle - Peru, Glenbard West and Peoria Central were the only one in the state to place two men on the All-State team. All but Peoria were conference champions and all but Peoria and Mendel were

Say Consolidation Could Close Providence High

A consolidation of Catholic high schools in the Joliet Diocese is expected to materialize when the 1969 school year begins next September, and it could include Providence High, of New Lenox.

However, long before then it will be known what schools are to be affected. That information will be announced Jan. 13, according to Father Niles J. Gillen, O. Carm., diocesan superintendent of schools.

Despite the fact that no official information is available and reiteration that any recommendations made public in the next couple of weeks are just recommendations, reports persist that Providence High School, on U.S. 30, west of New Lenox, is one of the schools that will close.

The students, the parents have all made use of the report in pushing for the success of the Harvest Festival -- a fund raising project -- last weekend. But it was not just a sales pitch. For them it was very real. And from others, who do not wish to be identified, the report also comes strong and clear -- Providence is one of the schools to be "consolidated" in the Joliet diocese.

There are some 30 acres in the site to serve the school, a couple of buildings to house the religious teaching staff, and the athletic fields. No one has officially revealed the appraised value of the property but there is no question it is quite valuable, it was pointed out, lying as it does in close proximity to the interchange between U.S. 30 and I-80.

If Providence High School should be put up for sale it has been suggested that either the Lincoln-Way High School district or the New Lenox Grade School district would be interested in acquiring it.

Officials in both districts are reported interested.

"It would solve the space problem for the New Lenox Grade school system for 10 years," a spokesman said. "It could be made into a junior high school and the buildings now used as dormitories could be made into special quarters for home economics and vocational classes. The only thing about it, is that I doubt if the district could raise the money at this time. At the moment our bonding power is down."

On the other hand it was said that probably Lincoln-Way High School could manage to swing it financially, but in either case the voters of the district would have the final voice on the subject.

This talk of prospective buyers, of course, is all based on whether Providence High will be closed.

Lincoln-Way District has a school site in Connecticut Hills, at Frankfort and eventually, it is said, it planned to have a third school when enrollment growth made it necessary.

Providence High, now seven years old, was built with the back of the structure in concrete blocks so the building can be expanded easily when necessary. The present enrollment is 557, and the entire area is represented in it. It is the only co-ed type Catholic High School in the Joliet area. Each year has seen a growth in its enrollment so there are many who will do their utmost to keep the school going. The Christian Brothers, an order operate the school, assisted by the Sisters of Providence. There are also many lay teachers on the faculty.

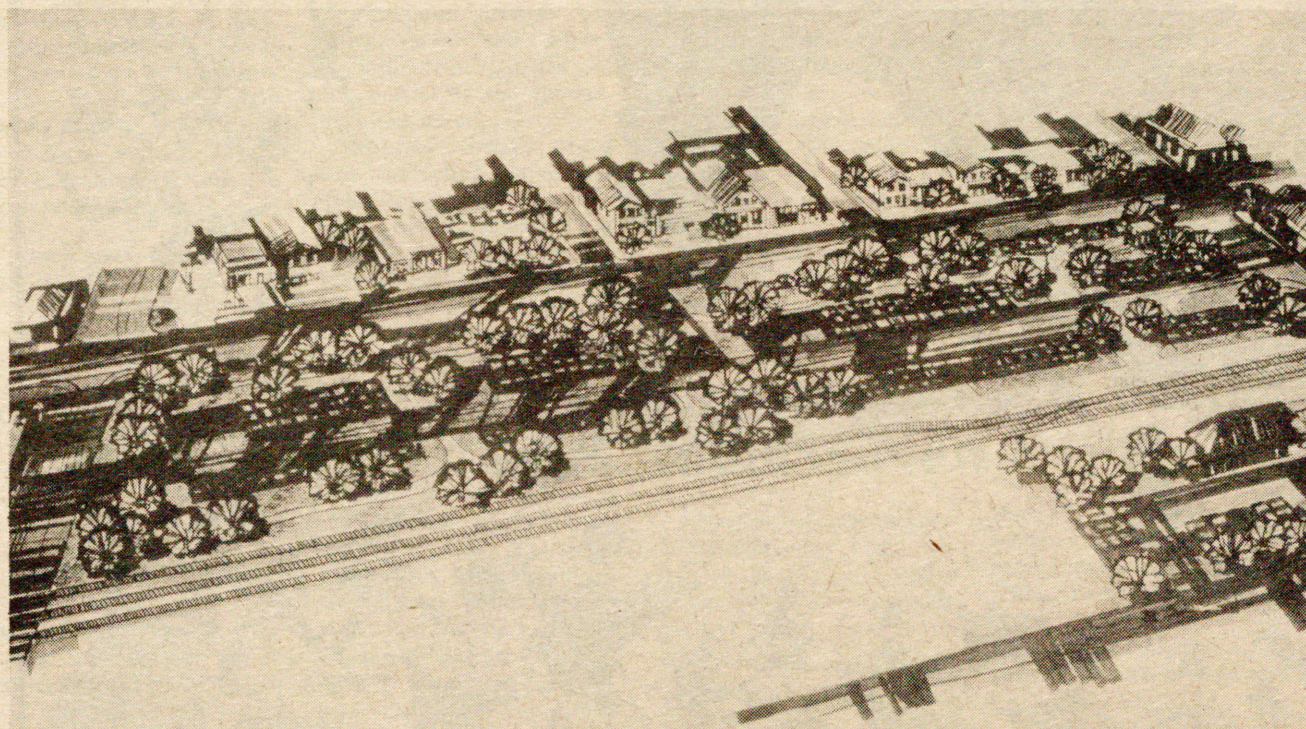

Catholic schools on grade and high school levels are having an increasingly difficult time to keep going. For some time now there has been an increasing decline in the number of priests, brothers and nuns available as teachers. This means that the Catholic schools must hire lay teachers and when they do that it must be in competition with tax supported schools. Non-public schools must depend on tuition and free-will donations.

Only last week the Catholic Bishops of Illinois appealed to the state for help in the operation of non-public schools. They pointed out that these schools, grade and secondary, now enroll about 20 per cent of all the children in those groups, if all the non-public schools had to close then the public school systems would have to absorb these students, it was pointed out, and this would place a tremendous financial burden on the taxpayers, far greater than any aid would be.

The bishops program has four objectives: Better transportation arrangements; loan of secular text books; certain auxiliary services for non-public school pupils in districts where they are provided for public school children, and provision for a state agency to purchase the secular components on non-public grade and high school programs, e.g., mathematics and physical education.

Arbury Hills Seek Details On Costs For Street Lighting

Mrs. Edward Hovi
Telephone 479-5740

Street lighting was one of the major topics discussed at the meeting of the Arbury Hills Civic Association but the opinion expressed favored further investigation of the subject before presenting residents with a petition. It was felt that before the people were asked to approve a street lighting program that they know just how much it will cost.

Also discussed was the possibility of establishing a park in Arbury Hills. A park committee was set up, with Tom Fletcher as chairman. The other two members are Joe Farnham and Chris Evans. The committee will approach the Mokena Park board with a request that a park be set up in Arbury Hills.

People were also reminded to be on the lookout for Santa Claus. Under a working arrangement with the Civic Group, the good St. Nicholas is slated to be in Arbury Hills on Dec. 22 with stocking filled treats for the children.

The honor roll for the Arbury Hills School is as follows: Sixth Grade High Honors: Karen Smith, Dierdre Durbin and Kirk Van Deraa.

Sixth Grade Honors: Steve Ayers, Carrie Donovan, Chris Hayden, David Olson, Ellen Schein, Edward Tomszak and Diane Cooper.

Seventh Grade High Honors: Mike Ayers and Nancy Dickerson. Seventh Grade Honors: Robert Maschmeyer, Cathy Tanis, Mark Donovan, Jim Rose, Kevin Smith, and Laura Veltman.

Eighth Grade High Honors: Al Behnke, Paula Sheedy, Steve Smith and Faye Langland. Eighth Grade Honors: Susan Kilgore, Blake Tekette, Lisa Monson, Steve Peterson and Terri Coffman.

There was a meeting at the Arbury Hills School with the members of the Frankfort Township school boards yesterday, Nov. 26, which included the four administrators and twenty-eight board members.

They discussed their mutual problems, that the school calendars should be similar, their similarities in curriculum, professional needs, and common concerns.

The Summit Hill School Board is cooperating with the students program of shared time being conducted within the Mokena public school district and the St. Mary's School.

The Summit Hill School District will enroll the children concerned, i.e., those living within the Summit Hill School District who are attending the St. Mary's School in seventh and eighth grade, as tuition students. The tuition will not cost the residents tax money, since the tuition will be paid to the extent that the school district will be able to collect the state aid for that portion of time the students are attending the public school.

The district will collect the money from the state aid and pay it to the Mokena Public School District.

The school board is doing this in recognition of their obligation to provide each child in the district with the best possible education available.

The special education program is becoming one of the very good ones in the area. The special education board, with our representative being Joe Farnham has been meeting regularly.

The visual aid library at the Arbury Hills School has been increased by four film strip projector and film strips. The financial aid provided by the Summit Hill Parent - Teacher Group helped in a large part to alleviate the cost problem.

The room libraries increased in size to give the youngsters a better selection. This will have to suffice until there is enough room and money to construct a central library for the school.

There have been teacher meetings on health and family living (sex education). Since the law is somewhat permissive on the teaching of sex education, the program is being thoroughly investigated before being implemented. Your comments as parents of the students in this matter would be appreciated. There will be a meeting early next year with the parents of the sixth through eighth grade students.

Prior to the meeting there will be a conference by Supt. Avila, the county health nurse, and Mrs. Donald Munday, the head of the committee from the Parent-Teacher Group on Health and Family Living.

Conduct Funeral Rites For Clida O. Deadmore

Funeral services were conducted last Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Clida O. Deadmore, 83, of Mokena, who died Nov. 20, following a long illness. The services were held at the Blood and Grant Funeral Home, Joliet, with the Rev. Howard J. Miller, pastor of Faith United Methodist Church, Joliet, officiating. Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery, Joliet.

Mrs. Deadmore had a varied career that embraced many skills. She was an operator, a supervisor, and manager in the early days of the telephone industry and in later years she became proficient in various fields of the printing trade. She could set type, by hand, and operate a typesetting machine. She also could make up ads and keep books.

A daughter of the late John and Margaret Oestreich, she was born at Joliet Feb. 6, 1885. As a girl she went to work for the Northwestern Telephone Co. of Joliet as an operator and within a short time became a supervisor.

When the Chicago Telephone Co. bought the Northwestern, Miss Oestreich as she was then, was transferred to New Lenox. That was in 1907. Her title was manager, and as such she kept the books, sent out the bills and collected them, and listened to complaints. She also served as the operator. The switchboard was in an upper room of the Oestreich home on Haven St., and since Miss Oestreich was on duty 24 hours a day, this was also her bedroom.

Subscribers were not supposed to make calls after 9 p.m., except for an emergency. On those occasions a gong would awaken her. The late Millis Knickerbocker was the entire maintenance crew for the phone company at New Lenox. On of his most necessary tools was a long cane, fish pole which he used to poke the wires apart when the lines along the roads became twisted.

Miss Oestreich was married to Hugh Deadmore, March 10, 1917, at which time she quit her post at New Lenox. But in 1919 she took over the telephone office at Mokena and served as manager until 1925. After that she was employed for many years by the Semmler Newspapers.

Mr. Deadmore was employed by the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway and so the couple made their home at Joliet until 1947 when they came to Mokena to reside. Mr. Deadmore died July 16, 1954.

Mrs. Deadmore suffered a stroke about a year ago and since that time has been confined to hospital or nursing home.

She was a member of the Mokena Methodist Church, Susannah Circle and Willing Workers Circle, and a member of the former Sons and Daughters of Liberty at Joliet.

Besides her husband and parents, she was preceded in death by a brother, Theodore "Pete" Oestreich, of Joliet. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Amelia Campbell of Seattle, Wash., and Mrs. Margaret Semmler, retired newspaper publisher, of Mokena; also numerous nieces, nephews and cousins.

Hold Rites Today For Walter Spiess

Funeral rites for Walter H. Spiess, 66, of 11216 Front St., Mokena, will be held at 1:30 p.m., today, Wednesday, at the Hirsch Memorial Chapel, Tinley Park.

Rev. Laso Hunyady of St. John's United Church of Christ, will officiate. Interment will be in the church cemetery.

Mr. Spiess died Nov. 25 at Silver Cross Hospital in Joliet, following a brief illness.

Born Feb. 2, 1902 in Orland Township, he resided in this area for his entire life. He was a retired employee of Welsch Lumber Company in Mokena, and a member of the Modern Woodmen of American.

Survivors include his wife, Elda (nee Schenkel); two sons, Walter and Melvin, both of Mokena; a brother, Alvie of Mokena; and seven grandchildren. He was preceded in death by two sisters, Anna Reiter and Olive Kohl, and three brothers, Bert, Harvey and Harold.

Bishops Support Papal Encyclical

Because certain accounts of the pastoral letter of the Catholic bishops as reported in various news media may have been misleading and confusing to many, Bishops Blanchette and Vonesh, of the Joliet Diocese, have issued the following statement:

"We were surprised upon returning from Washington that some people thought that the American Bishops were opposing Pope Paul's Encyclical. In voting our approval, we definitely stood with the Holy Father. Here is what our statement said:

"The encyclical is a positive statement concerning the nature of conjugal love and responsible parenthood, a statement which derives from a global vision of man, an integral view of marriage, and the first principles, at least, of a sound sexuality. It is an obligatory statement, consistent with moral convictions rooted in the traditions of Eastern and Western Christian faith; it is an authoritative statement solemnly interpreting imperatives which are divine rather than ecclesiastical in origin. It presents without ambiguity, doubt or hesitation the authentic teaching of the Church concerning the objective evil of that contraception which closes the marital act to the transmission of life, deliberately making it unfruitful. United in collegial solidarity with the Successor of Peter, we proclaim this doctrine."

"Some have the impression that we decided that couples can do as they please in this question of artificial contraception. However, the Bishops' statement says, 'The Pastoral Constitution on the Church in the Modern World reminds us that 'in their manner of acting, spouses should be aware that they cannot proceed arbitrarily. They must always be governed according to a conscience dutifully conformed to the divine law itself, and should be submissive toward the Church's teaching office, which authentically interprets that law in the light of the Gospel. That divine law reveals and protects the integral meaning of conjugal love and impels it toward a truly human fulfillment' (Gaudium et Spes, 50). We must not suppose that there is such conflict between authority and freedom, between objective values and subjective fulfillment, that one can only prevail by the elimination of the other.

"Married couples faced with conflicting duties are often caught in agonizing crises of conscience. For example, at times it proves difficult to harmonize the sexual expression of conjugal love with respect for the life-giving power of sexual union and the demands of responsible parenthood. Pope Paul's encyclical and the commentaries of the international episcopates on it are sensitive as are we to these difficult situations. Filled with compassion for the human condition the Holy Father offers counsel which we make our own:

"Let married couples, then, face up to the efforts needed, supported by the faith and hope which do not disappoint... because God's love has been poured into our hearts thru the Holy Spirit, Who has been given to us; let them implore divine assistance by persevering prayer; above all, let them draw from the source of grace and charity in the Eucharist. And if sin should still keep its hold over them, let them not be discouraged, but rather have recourse with humble perseverance to the mercy of God, which is poured forth in the Sacrament of Penance" (Humanae Vitae, 25).

"It is in this context that we must understand the exhortation to married people to continue to go to the Sacraments, even if they have failed. Surely, the Catholic bishops would say the same thing regarding the actions of any sinner. They would exhort him or her to repent, to sincerely seek to avoid sin in the future, and to go to confession. We admit, too, that just as in the case of other transgressions in the moral order, so in this question also, there can be circumstances that may reduce moral guilt - e.g., lack of freedom, confusion, ignorance, etc..."

Jr. College Classes Hear Talk

Detective Cliff Irwin of the Joliet Police Department told some 200 psychology students that dangerous drug usage is increasing in the community and will probably continue to increase. Speaking to the Joliet Junior College District 525 audience at 10 a.m. Wednesday, November 13, at the College, Detective Irwin explained that his department is attempting to identify local users and, in particular, "pushers" or sellers of dangerous drugs.

Detective Irwin stresses that drugs are a very real problem in this area and drug usage seems highest in the 15-30 age group.

"Pushers want to 'get the young people,'" he said of the drugs. Detective Irwin commented, LSD is probably the most dangerous. Up to two years following a dose of LSD the use "can go the same trip all over again," he said. The recurrence is often called "afterflash." He pointed out the dangers of afterflash occurring to one driving or operating machinery, as well as the agonies of having to live through another "bad trip." Moreover, laboratory studies using rats, he said, have produced more serious effects than just afterflash. Rat offspring with six legs and two heads, leads scientists to believe similar deformities may occur in human generations to come.

Detective Irwin then showed a film on LSD written and produced by Dr. David Parker, vivid and frightening portrayal of LSD users' "trips" sometimes resulting in permanent psychological disorders and even suicide. Scientists are still uncertain as to exactly how LSD acts on the brain, but they are closely following the history of its users. As indicated in the film, the biggest problem for control of LSD usage, besides the ease in manufacturing it in any simple laboratory, is identifying it. The film pointed out that it is colorless, odorless, and tasteless, and that an LSD dosage is so small that a single drop can provide 500 trips. One dose can be contained on the point of a pin, or 20 doses can be hidden on the back of a postage stamp. And it leaves no identifiable traces in the users body.

Following the film, Detective Irwin answered questions from the audience regarding other dangerous drugs such as pep pills, depressants, and marijuana, in particular. Marijuana is a common first step, he said, and 90 per cent of its users end up on other more serious drugs. So far it is considered non-addictive, but the danger seems to lie in a "psychological tendency" now being found "that leads users to heroin or pills," he said. Parents, he commented, are often unaware that their children are using marijuana, but think they are only ill. Such symptoms as stomach cramps, diarrhea, constipation, and a craving for sugar are common.

A couple years ago, he said, glue sniffing was the worst drug problem in the community. Prolonged usage damages the brain, he warned, and users have been known to commit irrational acts such as one boy who jumped through a plate glass window some months ago.

Detective Irwin urged anyone with information regarding drug users or pushers to contact the authorities. He extended a guarantee that the information would remain "strictly confidential." "Cooperation from young people," he said, is the best way to control drug usage. If it is not controlled, he added, "later as tax payers it will cost you a lot of money."

The meeting was arranged by Mrs. Grace Brewer, psychology department chairman.

Talk Again Of College For South Side Area

The Board of Governors of State Colleges and Universities will consider today a capital improvements request of $24,840,000 for construction of a new institution for higher education to be located in the south metropolitan Chicago area. Authority to acquire a site and to plan for the new school was given by the 75th General Assembly of Illinois.

The Board of Higher Education will make its recommendations on this request at its meeting in Chicago on Dec. 2 and 3.

Normally capital budgets are prepared in detail, indicating building needs, utilities, equipment and site work. However, in the case of this institution, a site is about to be selected and acquisition of land started. The next step will be the development of a master campus plan. Consequently, the submission of a definitive budget at this time would be difficult. At the same time, funds should be provided to permit the development of this campus in an orderly fashion, and construction of buildings as designed will not be hampered or delayed through lack of funds.

Also, a master campus plan has not yet been developed. It is therefore not possible to indicate whether the plan will eventually contemplate several specific individual buildings of varying sizes and functions, or a complex of buildings representing a common core. Consequently, costs cannot be projected on a square foot basis, and other standards of cost must be used. Certain projections in terms of total dollars can be made, based on projected enrollments and historical cost data per full-time equivalent student.

In 1966 a study was made to determine estimated construction costs per student in Illinois, and it was found these ranged from $7,500 to $7,900 per student. Since the college is to be located in northeastern Illinois, a relatively high construction cost area, and is to be an upper division and first year graduate institution, both of which represent slightly higher cost areas, a defense could be made for selecting a figure above the minimum of $7,500 per student. However, it should be remembered that the academic program of the college will not include any of the more expensive programs such as engineering, agriculture, or any of the professions. After due consideration, it has been decided to use the minimum figure of $7,500 which prevailed in 1966, and adjust it according to the MBM formula to the fall of 1970. This figure becomes $10,350 per student.

When a site has been selected, campus planning will be started at once. Thus it would appear that construction could start in early 1970 and the college could open in the fall of 1972, possibly on a limited basis sooner. The first phase of construction is planned to accommodate 2,000 full-time equivalent students by 1973.

Don't Be A Slave To Perfection, Says Bea

"I made it myself." Can you make that statement with pride rather than with apology?

Women who sew seem to fall into three categories, says Bea Bagby, Will County Extension Adviser in home economics. Those who are satisfied with anything because they made it; those who never do well enough to suit themselves; and those who fall somewhere in between.

The slightest deviation from perfection seems to cause many women to feel guilty and to imagine that everyone else notices the mistake.

Important as perfection is, don't be a slave to it. Ripping and stitching and ripping and stitching can give a garment a tired, worn-out look before you wear it for the first time. Mrs. Bagby says that in most instances, you will be the only one who notices some slight imperfection.

Have you ever bought a dress, and after wearing and enjoying it noticed some slight error in stitching or construction that escaped your eye at first? If you had sewn it that way, you would most likely have apologized. Instead, you enjoyed the style, or color or fabric -- whatever attracted you to the dress in the first place.

If you are not confident of your ability to sew well, choose printed designs and textured fabrics, so that stitching imperfections will be less obvious. Plain-colored, flat-textured fabrics, such as linen and flannel, will show up mistakes.

Top stitching to outline seams or other details should be as perfect as possible to avoid the "homemade" look. And if you find the job too difficult to handle, omit the top stitching.

Choose pattern and fabric to suit your sewing ability. Correct any serious sewing mistakes you might make, and resolve to eliminate the small ones from the next garment you sew.

Mrs. Bagby adds, above all, don't apologize. Be proud of your sewing ability and continue to work to improve it. Sewing can be a rewarding, creative experience and it can also help you reduce clothing expenses.

Low Blood Sugars Can Be Dangerous

Copyright 1968 World Book Science Service

When Dr. Joseph M. Foley, Professor of Neurology at Case Western Reserve Medical School stated recently that he considered "all strokes to be hypoglycemic due to low blood sugars unless proven otherwise", he gave authoritative medical recognition to a condition that has long been neglected, ignored, even denied.

My husband, Dr. Henry J. John, a diabetic specialist now retired, gave the name hypoglycemia to blood sugars below the normal levels of 70mg-120mg per cc of blood some 42 years ago.

The late Dr. Seale Harris of Tulane University and others researched and wrote extensively in medical journals about it.

But somehow it became a fad diagnosis, convenient for doctors who could find nothing wrong with their wealthy, neurotic patients. For quite a while everyone went around with "hypoglycemia" instead of colitis. As a result the diagnosis fell into disrepute.

Hypoglycemia is, however, a very real and dangerous condition, every bit as serious as the high blood sugars (hyperglycemia) of diabetes and probably affects twice as many people in varying degrees of severity.

Its symptoms, ranging from mild confusion, jitters, profuse sweating, tingling, through violent hunger pains, nausea, migraine-type headaches, visual distortions, total disorientation, to convulsions, unconsciousness and even death, resemble the same symptoms a diabetic experiences when he has taken too large a dose of insulin.

For many reasons not all scientifically worked out yet, the hypoglycemic's Islands of Langerhans in the pancreas become overactive or overresponsive to sugars and pour out too much insulin, which in turn "burns them up" too fast.

Since the brain can only function with a normal supply of blood sugar, any deficit becomes dangerous. Prolonged periods of hypoglycemia damage the brain sufficiently to cause epilepsy.

Though it is necessary to take some form of a quick acting sugar to relieve symptoms, the amount should be kept to a minimum or the whole vicious cycle starts up again.

Doctors are fairly convinced that if the hypoglycemia is not due to a malignant or benign tumor of the pancreas, it is the forerunner of frank diabetes.

STOP SMOKING SIMPLY -- Dr. James A. Hall of Dallas finds that he can help smokers stop smoking easily by giving them several weeks of hypnosis treatments during which he can suggest that they will have no desire for cigarettes or for any substitute.

NO LET UP -- In Spite of the fact that cigaret consumption has dropped in the U.S., the American Cancer Society reports there is an alarming rise in the number of lung cancers.

TOOTH TRANSPLANT -- University of Michigan Dental School reports the total success of a tooth transplant from a 16-year-old girl to her 13 year old brother.

SKIN CANCER -- Dr. Martin S. Litwin at Tulane University has done clinical testing of a five-fluoroucil ointment on skin cancers over a period of several years and found it to be successful in preventing recurrence.

NOT SO SAFE -- A team of distinguished U.S. experts who are studying acute liver disease necrosis have reported that repeated exposure to halothane, an anesthetic, ranks second only to hepatitis as its cause.

The Junior Scientist 'Reading' By Ear

Copyright 1968 World Book Science Service

Have you ever set your phonograph at too fast a speed for the record on the turntable? Or listened to a tape recorder when the tape was going too fast for normal listening?

Sounded like Donald Duck, didn't it?

Now there are new electronic techniques that make it possible for you to actually understand what you're hearing -- even when the record or tape is playing much faster than it ordinarily does. The "Donald Duck effect" can be eliminated.

This might not seem very significant at first glance. But consider the benefits for blind people. The blind can read by the Braille method, but not as rapidly as sighted people normally read.

Listening to tapes and records hasn't been very effective because ordinary speech rates are much slower than the normal person's rate of reading.

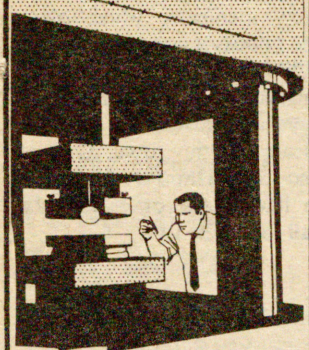

But if you could record something at normal speaking pace and then play it back faster and still understand it, you would have a real breakthrough for blind people.

This is just what has been developed. Scientists expect that blind people will be able to "read by ear" at rates comparable to those achieved by people fortunate enough to "read by eye."

Can you climb this word ladder? Start with EARS, changing one letter at each rung to form a new word until you get to READ. Don't leave any blanks.

ANSWERS: Here's one way you could have climbed the word ladder: EARS, BARS, BARE, HARE, HARD, HERD, HEAD, READ.

Making Diamonds

Man-made diamonds are made in a press that creates conditions existing 240 miles beneath the Earth's surface. The press squeezes carbon compounds at a pressure of over 3 million pounds per square inch and generates temperatures of more than 9,000 degrees F. The diamonds it produces are no larger than grains of fine sand.

EKG Precedes Patient

Ambulance patients can now have their electrocardiograms flashed ahead to the hospital because of a simplified system developed by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration for monitoring test pilots and astronauts.

Newly developed chest electrodes are linked to a radio-telephone relay. This provides doctors with advance information on the coronary status of the patient and permits them to make emergency preparations prior to the patient's arrival at the hospital.

The system was installed by a Los Angeles ambulance service early this year on an experimental basis. The technique was developed by NASA's Flight Research Center, Lancaster, Calif., for continuous monitoring of pilots during test flights.

MR. AND MRS. ARTHUR BRANDAU

Couple Recite Vows In Frankfort Church

Altar bouquets of white mums and pom-poms decorated the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church of Frankfort for the Oct. 19 double ring ceremony of Jeanette Sangmeister and Arthur Ray Brandau.

Rev. Adolph E. Ullrich officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sangmeister of Peotone, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al C. Brandau of Tinley Park.

Ronald Heisner of Frankfort, cousin of the bride, served as candlelighter. Miss Sharon Reils of Flint, Mich., cousin of the bride, was the organist. Miss Donna Heisner of Manhattan, cousin of the bride, sang "The Wedding Prayer," "I'll Walk Beside You," and "O Perfect Love."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a toe touching gown of white peau-de-soie trimmed with pearl studded lace, and a tubular cathedral train bordered with scalloped lace. A tiny queen's crown of aurora borealis released a short veil. She carried a bouquet of large mums and pom-poms.

Miss Arlene Sangmeister, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Marilyn Sangmeister, sister of the bride, and Miss Joyce Heisner, of Joliet, cousin of the bride. Each attendant wore an "A"-line green gown with velvet brocade bodice and sheath chiffon skirt over taffeta. Matching velvet flowers held short veils. Each carried a cascade bouquet of bronze and yellow pom-poms.

Miss Linda Brandau of Tinley Park, niece of the groom, was the flower-girl. She wore a long dress similar in style and color to the other attendants. She carried a basket of bronze and yellow pom-poms. Kenneth Reils of Monee, cousin of the bride, was the ringbearer.

Herbert N. Hultsch of Tinley Park was the best man. Groomsmen were Albert Brandau Jr. of Tinley Park, brother of the groom, and Richard Reils of Monee, cousin of the bride. Ralph Sangmeister and Albert Brandau Jr. were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sangmeister chose a gold suit with brown accessories. She wore an ivory cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. Brandau chose a brown suit with beige accessories, including a beige cymbidium corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the Peotone Atrium. After a Florida honeymoon, the couple is residing in Peotone.

The bride, a graduate of Peotone Community High School, is employed at the Bremen State Bank of Tinley Park. The groom, a graduate of Bremen High School, is employed at the Brandau Construction Company in Tinley Park.

Youths Can Study State Government

This has been a year of political activity across the nation, and particularly so, for the younger people. For those youth who are interested in learning more about their state legislature, an opportunity is offered thru the Youth and Government program sponsored by the Southwest YMCA, 9840 S. Cicero.

Training for this Youth and Government program starts in January, although registration is now taking place at the local high schools. When a group becomes organized, they select an area of needed legislation such as air pollution, drugs, crime in the streets, and work is then begun which will be presented at the 19th Youth Legislature in Springfield, April 24-26.

Nationally, this education training experience in state government began in 1936, and now takes place in 36 states. The first Illinois Youth Legislature was held in 1950.

High school juniors and seniors become deeply involved in the process of determining community needs, and in developing legislation in the form of bills, to satisfy the needs.

In debating and acting upon the bills, these dynamic, skilled, youth senators and representatives and elected officials experience the 'feel' of how our government works.

Water, Walks Highlight Meeting

Sidewalks and water were major topics at the New Lenox Village Board meeting. Both subjects were introduced by the New Lenox grade school board which attended the council meeting as a body.

A. J. Turner, president of the school board, told the village board that it was in favor of the proposed central water system and willing to sign an agreement for the schools to become users but not on a household rate as the agreement provided.

Mayor Joseph Hartung said that the final rates have not been set up. There were 421 signers for the service as of Nov. 20 and that the more customers the village had the less it would have to charge. He also pointed out that most municipalities have a variety of water rates, with lower rates applied for large users.

As for sidewalks, the mayor said, the board would like to see them built thruout the village but it would take a bond issue - probably special assessment bonds - to finance the program and right now the board was concerned with getting a central water system in operation by next September.

"We can't hit the public with too much at one time," he said. "We know there are a lot of things to be done and we are endeavoring to do as much as we can. We need the sidewalks. There is no question about that, but we need this water system too."

Trustee Francis Miller, chairman of the finance committee, pointed out that a water system was a must if the village is to develop and succeed in attracting industry.

"We need business, we need industry and if we get them we will have more revenue," Miller said. "Increased assessed valuation for the Village should help the homeowner with his tax bill but unless we can provide a central water system we cannot expect to enjoy a proper growth. It isn't that the board doesn't want sidewalks. The board does but we have to take things as they come. I am sure that eventually we will have sidewalks but now we have this water program."

Trustee Earl Schroeder suggested that a committee be named, made up of interested persons, to study means of furthering the sidewalk program.

Mayor Hartung appointed Schroeder and Trustee Robert Wysock to represent the village board on this committee and Turner named Charles Elliott and Victor Miller from the school board. Supt. Arnold Tyler is to ask the PTO to name a couple of members and it was suggested that the Association of Commerce, the Lions Club, other organizations and the clergy be represented.

Trustee Wilbur Thackrey pointed out that several years ago the village board made a survey to get an expression of opinion on installing sidewalks, especially along those streets leading to public and parochial schools. The survey showed, Thackrey said, that everyone was in favor of having walks but no one wanted to pay for them.

It was also brought out that it was difficult to get the children to use walks in those areas where they were available.

It was also pointed out that perhaps some temporary program could be adopted, such as constructing gravel walks, along streets leading to schools.

School board members and the PTO are fearful that some children may be killed or seriously injured if they are required to use streets as walkways.

Supt. Tyler and Turner stressed the importance of keeping the matter alive and it was believed the committee now being formed would do that.

O.V. Rowe, building commissioner, submitted some forms for inspections and permits for various phases of construction. The board delayed action until it was learned what the county was going to do in this regard.

There was talk of requiring owners of motor vehicles who reside in the village to get tags for them, but board members felt this was not the time and the matter was dropped.

Approval was given to the rezoning of a lot owned by Ed. W. Falck, at the back of his store, Cedar and Francis, from residential to business. Ordinances were also adopted annexing property in the Inner Court area where the sewer system has been extended. The property owners have put the money for the sewer in escrow. From this account $9,795 was paid to Sarris Construction for work completed.

Generations Do Fair Job Of Gap Bridging

The Lions lay down with the lamb, and the teen sat down with the adult-and talked! They talked together in groups of ten to fifteen, mixed groups of adults and young people, and they were surprised to discover that they could, at the Conference on Values, November 17th, at Carl Sandburg High School.

The day long conference, underwritten financially by the Palos Lions and supported by over forty Palos/Orland civic and church organizations was attended by more than two hundred divided, almost equally between adults and youth. Twenty adults, and twenty young people served as conveners, or moderators.

The keynote speaker was Dr. Robert Grant, who is currently a Director, Program for Emotionally Disturbed (Teacher Training for Special Education) University of Illinois Chicago Circle Campus.

It was the consensus of the group that a method should be established to continue this program of dialogue, and that a way should be established to bring this information back to the community. As one woman commented, "It was funny when we started . . . there we all sat and just looked at one another because we really didn't know anything about each other. We started out with nothing, but by the end we had gradually built up a discussion on everything from the church, to sex, to the black/white situation. I would like to have another session".

Social Security beneficiaries in this area who need to report changes of address or other events which affect their monthly payments are urged to make these reports directly to the social security office in Joliet. The Social Security Administration is always looking for ways to improve its service to the public, according to James. He explained that up to now, people were encouraged to notify social security about these changes by mailing a pre-addressed post card form to one of six record centers throught the country. But now, James added, people should make any report about a change of address, working, marriage, divorce, and death to the social security office

This has been a busy time for the Green Garden Snip 'N Snack 4-H Club. There was a roller skating party at the Tinley Park ring on Nov. 18 and two nights before that the Homer Roll Banquet was held at Francis Field.

At the regular meeting of the club a skit was presented concerned with various phases of citizenship. Sally Burns was in charge and Luann Uthe gave a talk on "What It Means to be a Citizen."

Bonnie Thompson talked on "Privileges of Citizenship," Donna Heisner's subject was "Responsibilities of Citizenship" and Joan Heisner spoke on "Qualities of a Good Leader."

"What Democracy Means," was the subject treated by Evelyn Sanders and Dawn Morrison talked on "What Do We Owe Our Country" while Jo Ann Salzmann discussed "How Could You Improve Your Citizenship".

Betsy Bettenhausen reported on the achievement program.

Churches, Groups Begin Christmas Preparations

Mrs. Sherman Knox
Telephone 349-0211

Churches and church groups are getting ready for the celebration Christmas. Observed in Christendom as the birthday of the Savior, Christmas is one of the great feasts of the Christian year. And this Christian year will begin this Sunday -- Advent Sunday -- in many churches. The Advent season, which runs four weeks, is preparation time for Christmas; the spiritual side, not the commercial.

As usual there will be programs designed to aid the less fortunate and some of these have been announced. The Church School of the Orland Methodist Church, for an example, will collect gifts to be sent to youngsters in the Jesse Lee Home at Anchorage, Alaska. Since these items must be packed, donors are requested not to wrap them.

Items needed are small and useful, such as plastic models, crayons, craft kits, Dinky toys, push trucks, current record albums, hard rubber (not plastic) combs, magic tricks or kits and the like.

Some members of the Methodist confirmation class are starting now to collect used clothing for Church World Service. There are boxes in the annex of the church where the articles may be placed. Good, warm clothing is needed, it was reported. Anyone who has clothing to donate but is unable to bring it to the church, is asked to telephone the church office, 349-267.

At Christ Lutheran Church, in addition to the regular Sunday services, there will be three special midweek services during Advent, Dec. 4, 11 and 18, at 7:30 p.m. The worship emphasis for these midweek vespers will focus on three minor feast days that occur in December but rarely celebrated in the Lutheran Church. They are the feasts of St. Thomas, St. Stephen and St. John. The public is invited to these vespers.

The American Legion Auxiliary Unit No. 526 will hold their meeting, Tuesday evening, December 3rd at the home of Emily Zerbs, at 8 p.m. This will be a Christmas Party, following business. Members are to bring a $1 gift for exchange.

The Eighth District meeting, American Legion Auxiliary, will be held at the Thornton Unit, Dec. 11. Eleta Cocherell, Emily Zerbs, Dorothy Thoms and Bertha Nicolai plan to attend.

-0-

Have your paper ready for the Boy Scouts, Troop No. 318, when they will collect Saturday, Dec. 7. These paper drives help the boys to have their camp outs, etc.

-0-

The Couples Club of the Methodist Church will hold its annual progressive dinner, Saturday, Dec. 14. All couples of the church are invited to attend. The dinner consists of several courses, each course served at a different home. Following the dessert course, there will be carol singing and entertainment.

GOP To Celebrate Election Victory

Will County Republicans will celebrate the outcome of the Nov. 5 election at a Victory Party scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 2 at D'Amico's "214" in Joliet.

Earlier in the day the five Republicans elected to county offices will be sworn in at brief ceremonies in the new county courthouse.

Taking the oath of office will be State's Attorney Lewis R. Bertani; clerk of the circuit court, Sam H. Paul; recorder of deeds, Kenneth L. George; auditor, Berle Needham, and corner, Willard G. Blood.

"We are both proud of and grateful to the hundreds of Will County residents who volunteered their time and energies to work for a Republican Victory in Will County," GOP County Chairman Thomas Feehan commented.

"Our precinct committeemen and committeewomen, our candidates, our office staff, our county chairwoman, headquarters volunteers, precinct workers and countless others well deserve a pat on the back and this small token of appreciation," Feehan continued.

James D. Hall, Will County chairman of the Ogilvie for Governor committee will head up the victory celebration. The volunteers will be the guests of the County Central Committee for an evening which will include dancing, entertainment, food, beverages and very little political oratory.

Awards will be presented to the three Republican precinct committeemen whose precinct results showed the greatest improvement.

State Seeks Release Of U.S. Road Dollars

A recent slash in federal aid to highway construction focuses attention on problems created for Illinois, according to Norbert J. Johnson, director of the state department of Public Works and Buildings.

The division of highways needs to know as far in advance as possible what right-of-way must be obtained in order to acquire land at fair prices, Johnson said.

Also, adequate time is needed to accurately locate and design pavements and structures necessary for the new highways and budget for construction.

Johnson declared:

"It has always been our practice to assign the highest priority to those construction projects where state and matching federal funds are involved. Obviously, it would be a serious error for the state not to have available its share of funds when federal aid monies for new highway construction are allotted to Illinois."

Of importance to constructors, Johnson said, is knowledge of monies they can expect for new construction, modernization, and highway repair in order to provide the state with a pool of trained manpower.

"One should remember that untrained labor is a major cause of excessive highway construction costs," the director observed.

The world's fastest self-cleaning ovens.

A new gas self-cleaning oven can get the messiest jobs done in half the time it takes the electric kind.

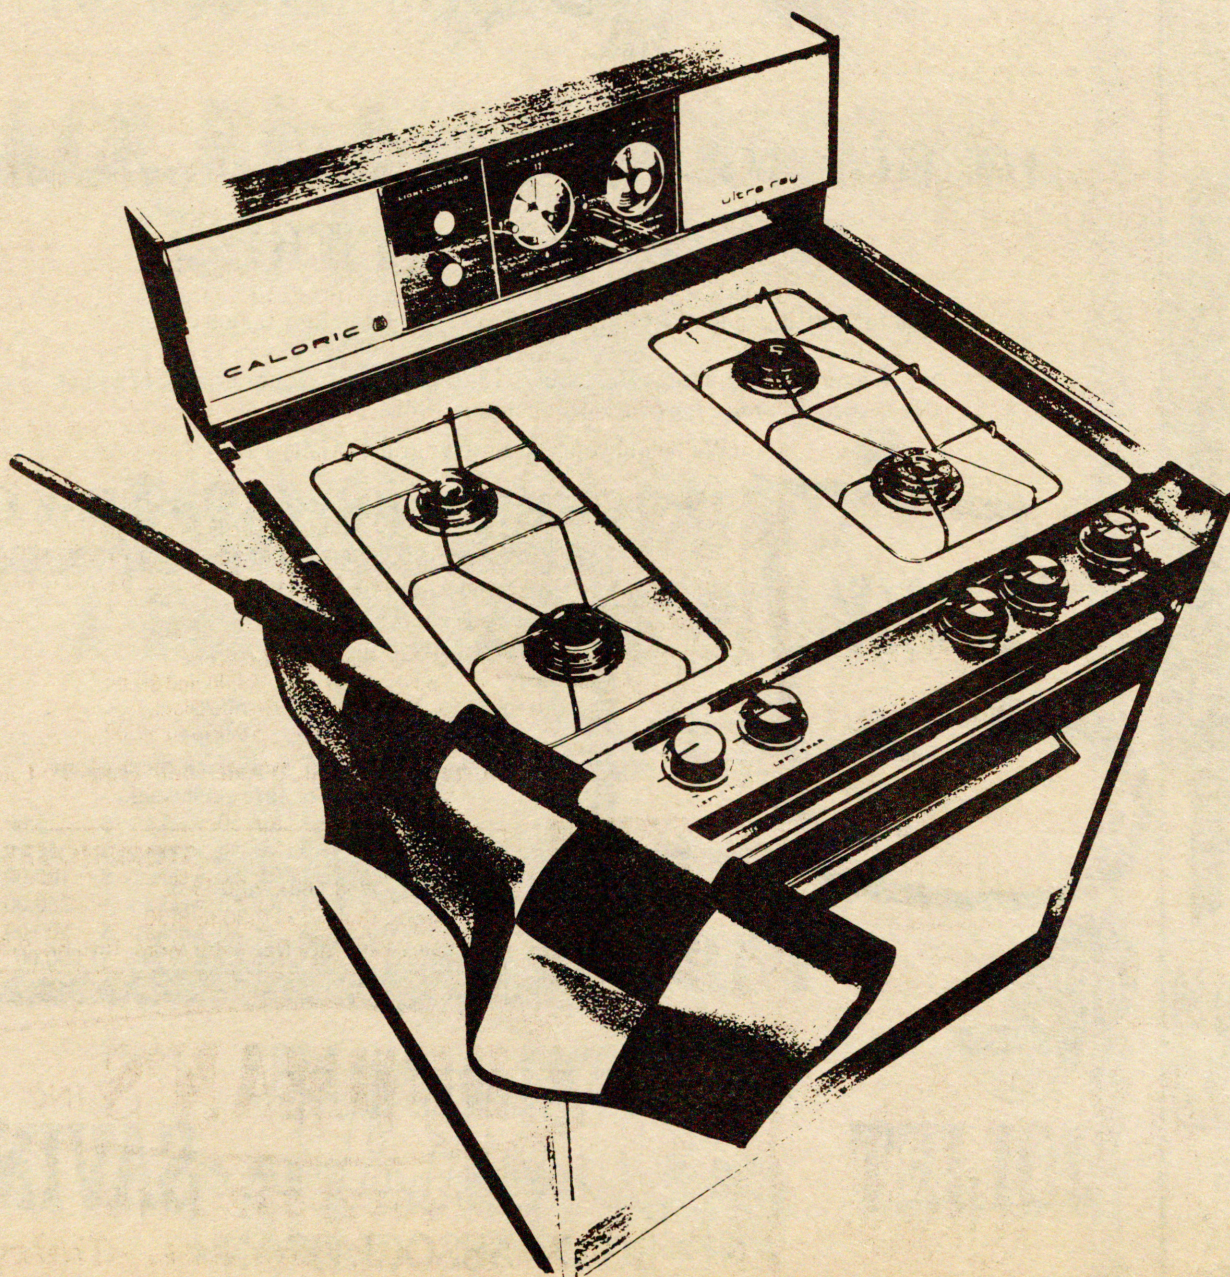

And with gas, you can shorten the cleaning cycle even more if an oven isn't soiled enough to require the full treatment.

But the best part about a new self-cleaning oven is the way it's packaged—inside a new gas range. Because only a gas range gives you precision-controlled top-of-stove cooking. Or gas infrared broiling units—the kind that cook quickly... provide eye-appealing browning, too.

Visit your Northern Illinois Gas office or appliance dealer and see why—when ovens come clean—it's no contest.

Gas wins in half the time.

Jr. College Holds Career Panel

Chemistry and related sciences are wide-open fields for young people, a professional careers panel told nearly 100 students recently at Joliet Junior College, District 525.

The department of physical sciences, in cooperation with the chemical industries council of the midwest, sponsored the panel representing five phases of the chemical industry: research, information, technology, engineering, and marketing.

The panelists were Dr. Joseph Arrigo, research at Universal Oil Products; W. T. Harper, engineering at Amoco Chemical Company; Miss Karen Kuncel, chemist-librarian at Sinclair Research; Lowell Burk, technology at Borg-Warner Company; and Richard Rosenberg, marketing at Borg-Warner Company.

Organized by Morris R. Stanley, former vice-president of Stauffer Chemical Company and now director of the school speakers panel from the Chemical Industries Council, the panel has appeared throughout the Chicago area.

The group provides career information on the wide variety of jobs in the industry and, in particular, in Illinois which ranks fourth in chemical production.

The panel told the students that the bulk of scientific information and knowledge doubles each ten years, creating a need among the scientific community for continuing study and more and more scientists.

The panel also emphasized the importance of studies outside the scientific fields. Especially valuable to the scientist, they said, is good preparation in oral and written communication, economics, and the humanities. Because business and industry depend upon the ability of people to work together, scientists must be able to communicate and form good human relationships with their fellow workers.

Finances should not stop would-be scientists, either, they said. Many of the panel members themselves financed their educations with after-school jobs.

Also attending the session were District 525 instructors Gilbert Anderson, Duane Converse, John Hirmer, department chairman Melvin J. Larson, and Dr. Leroy Mecay; astronomy and geology instructor Maurice Cameron; and physics instructors Roy Hartman, Wilbur Miner, and Leonard Onsgard.

Open Letter from the HIRSCHS'

Dear friends,

It is well to pause and think of the many devoted citizens who work on various boards and commissions to assure good schools, law enforcement, safety, health, and other vital public services - often working many hours at little or no salary.

They deserve a word of thanks for their dedicated service to the welfare of their fellow citizens.

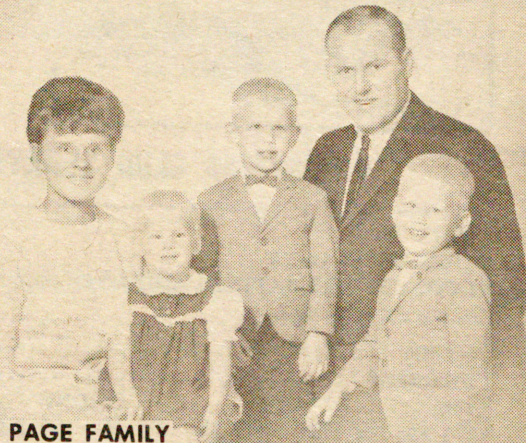

Sincerely,

Thim. Hirsch

Erosion Robs Soil Pollutes Streams

An analysis of sediment lost from a Will County farm might reveal tremendous monetary loss to the farmer. Valuable plant nutrients from soils are usually associated with loss of sediment and surface water. A summary of extensive data has shown that, on the average, concentrations of nitrogen in washoff (water plus sediment) have been 2.7 times that contained in the original soil. Values as high as 70 percent loss of applied phosphorus where soil erosion was excessive, have been reported. A summary study showed concentrations of available phosphorus in erosion sediment to be 3.4 times that contained in the soil. Other nutrients may move when soil erosion is excessive. Concentrations of available potassium in runoff, following recent potash fertilization, have been reported to be up to 19.3 times that in original soil found in sediment. Calcium and magnesium are also found in sediment.

As a result of erosion, we have sediment as the number one pollutant of our nation's water. Phosphorus is held strongly by the fine soil particles. These particles are moved rapidly by erosion. Phosphorus is a serious water pollutant. Very low concentrations promote excessive algae growth. Underground water is contaminated by nitrogen.

Crop management, minimum tillage and high fertility offer methods of preventing soil erosion and stream pollution. Any tillage system that leaves appreciable crop residues on the surface will be effective in controlling soil, water and plant nutrient loss.

Fall plowing should be avoided. Flat, fall-plowed, fields are subject to wind erosion. Strong winds carry precious top soil to road ditches and streams to become sediment. Hilly, fall-plowed fields are more subject to water erosion. With no residue to break up rain drops and speed of run-off, sediment increases. Soil must be managed to increase their resistance to erosion.

The Will-South Cook Soil and Water Conservation District at the Soil Conservation Service technicians, Allan May and Warren Townsend, will willingly assist landowners, rural and urban, with a conservation plan to avoid soil and water losses. Contact them at 100 Manhattan Road in Joliet. Phone 723-5078.

Traffic Safety Essay Deadline Is Dec. 31

Illinois high school seniors were reminded today that little more than a month remains for them to submit entries in the 1968 traffic safety essay contest sponsored by the Illinois Editors' Traffic Safety Seminar.

Lionel Kramer, Seminar secretary and public relations director for the Chicago Motor Club-AAA, pointed out that time is running out for high school seniors to submit their entries before the Dec. 31 deadline in order to compete for one of the ten $500 scholarship grants being made available to contest winners by the Chicago Motor Club-AAA.

Kramer said there is statewide interest in the contest among high school students, as indicated by the more than 500 requests received so far for entry blanks.

Robert Heck, Seminar president and chief editorial writer of the Rockford Morning Star and Register-Republic, paid tribute to the Chicago Motor Club and its president, Gerald W. Cavanagh, for making the scholarship grants available, calling the club's contribution a "farsighted and intelligent approach to accident prevention because it encourages young drivers to become good citizens of the highways." Theme of this year's essay is "Responsible Driving -- Is it My Concern?"

To be eligible for one of the Chicago Motor Club scholarship grants, Heck said the following contest rules must be observed:

--The essay is limited to 500 words. The high school senior mails his essay with entry blank to: Seminar Headquarters, 66 E. South Water St., Chicago, Ill. 60601. Essays must be received no later than Dec. 31, 1968.

--A Seminar screening committee will select what it considers to be the best essays to send to the student's local newspapers for publication. It is required that an essay (or a condensed version) be published in the entrant's local newspaper or high school publication to be eligible for final scholarship consideration.

--The newspaper will return a tearsheet of the published essay to Seminar headquarters. To be eligible for scholarship and other awards, published essays must be returned by March 15, 1969.

New Lenox Methodists Will Hold Outdoor Thanks Service

Dolores Anderson
Telephone 485-2365

The annual outdoor Thanksgiving Day services are to be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning on the Camp Grounds. This will be the third Thanksgiving Day service to be held there. On the two previous Thanksgivings weather conditions were ideal and those in charge of the program this year are hopeful of another good day weatherwise.

Length of the service will be determined by the weather. A hymn, a prayer and a scripture reading are held to be the important ingredients of the Thanksgiving spiritual feast, according to those in charge, and there will be that at least.

The Methodist Camp meeting Grounds, as the tract was known for many years saw the cottages there filled with families every summer. It was finally abandoned and for a long time the buildings there stood empty and served only as a fire hazard. A few years ago the New Lenox Methodist Church purchased the site and eventually expects to build a new church there.

Meanwhile the site will be used for the outdoor observance of Thanksgiving Day.

The First Baptist Church will hold its Thanksgiving service at 9 a.m. Thursday.

The New Lenox Church of the Nazarene held its Thanks service at 7:15 last night.

The New Lenox Ministerial Association is to meet next Tuesday, Dec. 3 at 11 a.m. in the St. Jude School library, with Fr. Gerold Schubert and Fr. Andre Schludecker as hosts.

The Bishops Relief Service is again sponsoring an appeal for clothing to be sent to needy persons overseas. In St. Jude parish the clothing campaign got underway last Sunday, Nov. 24 and extends thru Saturday, Nov. 30.

Donations of clothing are not to be brought in after this date and should be left at the nun's garage, NOT at the rectory.

The New Lenox grade school basketball teams will be hosts to Channahon in a brace of games next Tuesday, Dec. 3.

Area schools, public and private will have a holiday this week, Thanksgiving, of course, and Friday -- a long weekend.

Frank J. Kluge, of the New Lenox State Bank staff, has returned from the 23d annual Illinois Bank Management conference held at the Champaign-Urbana campus of the University of Illinois.

The New Lenox State Bank is now accepting members for the Christmas Savings Club. The bank has sent out checks to club members the past week in the amount of $63,000, it was announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schroeder returned last week from Florida where they spent 10 days. They took his mother, Mrs. Freda Schroeder, back to her home in Florida. She spent the summer months at New Lenox.

The annual Holiday Bazaar, sponsored by the United Methodist Church, will be held next Wednesday and Thursday, Dec. 4-5, in Fellowship Hall at the church.

On Wednesday the hours will be from 7 to 9 p.m. and on Thursday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

A luncheon will be served at noon on Thursday and tickets may be had from any WSCS member or at the door. The price is $1.25.

Highlighting the bazaar will be the Country Store, the Bakery and Candy display, fancy work, and many other booths, including one labeled Parcel Post, one called Christmas and one set up for Children.

Mrs. Norma Kollman and Mrs. Elaine Neece are co-chairmen.

A fellowship for new members of the First Baptist Church is to be held Saturday night, Nov. 30, in the Lions Club building on S. Cedar Rd. The affair is scheduled for 8:30, following the evening service.

Hearing and vision tests will be given by the Will County school nurse at Haines School next week, Dec. 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6.

The achievement night meeting of the New Lenox

Hayshakers 4-H club was held November 19th at Francis 4-H Field, with Mark Ebert, president, presiding.

Record books and awards were handed out. Two trophies for the neatest record books were given to Steve Smith and Gary Anderson from the Country Companies Insurance by John Hartnell.

The induction of officers ceremony and the acceptance of new members took place.

A Christmas party committee was appointed.

Talks were given by Gary Ebert, Paul Hinspeter, and Gary Schroeder.

John Langland and Donald Janssen gave demonstrations. Andy Wicklein gave a Pep talk on 4-H. He brought them up to date on 4-H activities.

Refreshments were served by the Ebert and Smith families. Plans were made for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 17th.

The Tall State

Illinois is in the center of the richest, most productive region on earth. There are 54 million people living within a 500-mile radius. They have a total income of $123 billion. Included in that area are 94,000 potential industrial customers.

Besides cross country, football, basketball, wrestling, baseball, golf -- sports Stagg presently competes in -- there is space for sports in which Stagg will field teams in the future: swimming, tennis, gymnastics, and track. The plaque was purchased with funds from the school's candy sale last year, also thru donations from the Lettermen's club and the Student Council.

EDC Making List Of Substitute Teachers

About 75 percent of the elementary and secondary school districts in the South Suburban area are actively seeking the names of substitute teachers to staff classrooms when temporary absences occur.

As an extension of its regular teacher recruitment service, the Education Development Cooperative (EDC) of South Cook and North Will counties is compiling a listing of qualified substitute teachers to fill the present and projected temporary positions.

Substitute teacher recruitment by EDC as a service or clearinghouse operation for its member districts provides a free, direct and up-to-date line of communication between the candidate and a school seeking substitute services. It works like this:

Teacher candidates register with EDC's service and their names and the registration information is forwarded to all 62 of EDC member school districts. This provides all superintendents with a listing of available candidates, their preferred subject or grade level choice, and the general geographical area in which they prefer to teach. From the listing, the superintendent makes his own contact with the candidate for either temporary or prolonged substitute positions.

According to the Illinois State Teacher Certification Board, to qualify for substitute teaching: "The county superintendent of schools may request a Substitute Certificate valid only for teaching in the county where issued.....Beginning July 1, 1966, applicants for the Substitute Certificate must have (1) another valid certificate, (2) a Bachelor's degree, or (3) two years teaching experience and present evidence of having a minimum of 60 semester hours of college credit (including six semester hours in professional education)."

Registration or inquiry about substitute or regular teaching positions may be made in person, by letter or phone to Educational Development Cooperative, 18216 Harwood Avenue, Homewood, Illinois 60430, (312) 799-7900.

The number of present openings for full-time teachers in area school and those projected for mid-term is still in excess of 50, according to the latest survey of teacher needs conducted by EDC's teacher placement service.

More than 40 of the vacancies are listed in elementary districts, nine in secondary districts. Continuing in extremely short supply are candidates qualified to teach vocal music, physical education, business education, industrial arts, and librarians.

New vacancies continue to occur, according to member superintendents, primarily due to maternity leaves and to changes of residence.

Mid-term college graduates are urged to contact EDC for listings of the full-time openings.

Fat Stock Show To Open Friday

Stockmen, dairymen, and farm youths from 38 states and three Canadian provinces - Quebec, Ontario, and Manitoba - will be exhibiting thousands of purebred farm animals at the forthcoming 69th International Live Stock Exposition.

It will be held here Nov. 29 to Dec. 7 in the International Amphitheatre and adjacent Chicago Stock Yards.

The show is the country's largest, and, in its calendar position, is the continent's final livestock show of the year. Most of the entries will be coming here from winnings at shows and fairs earlier in the season.

A panel of 46 judges from 16 states, Canada, and South America will select the winners in competitions for 37 breeds of cattle, horses, sheep, and swine. Wins at the International are the most keenly contested and highly prized of the year.

Valued at millions of dollars, these prize animals will soon be bound for Chicago from such distances as New England, the West Coast, Canada and the Gulf states. They will fill to capacity the 13-acre area of the International Amphitheatre.

Illinois is first among the 38 states in number of entries. The management reports owners in 70 Illinois counties will be exhibiting. Iowa is a close second with a representation of 65 counties. Other leading states in participating counties are Indiana with 51 counties, Ohio with 31, Missouri 23, and Wisconsin 20.

Youth is always in the lime-light at this event. They inspire in their large numbers, their enthusiasm, and frequent spectacular wins in competition with skilled adult showmen and herdsman.

The management reports an entry of 383 steers, lambs, and barrows in the exposition's Junior Livestock Feeding Contest by 4-H and F.F.A. boys and girls in 14 states. Most are from the Midwest. Others, accompanied by their well-groomed charges, will be coming from as far distant as Florida and Louisiana, Colorado and Maryland.

The International Horse Show - of national top rank - will be on daily during the show's 9-day run along with championship Rodeo. Upwards of 100 cowboy riders - comprising both seasoned contestants and new contenders - will compete here for champion points of the year in this roughest of sports.

Locking Car Helps To Prevent Theft

Auto thefts cost American motorists $500 million a year and rank as the nation's second most expensive crime, Norbert J. Johnson, director of the Illinois Department of Public Works and Buildings, said today.

A ratio of car thefts to accidents showed some 90,000 of the 550,000 vehicles stolen last year became involved in accidents, the director stated.

One or more persons were injured in 15,000 of these accidents.

To cope with the gravity of the situation, the U.S. Justice Department, in co-operation with the not-for-profit National Advertising Council, have begun a campaign entitled "Remove Your Key--Lock Your Car."

The percentage of stolen vehicles that has been left unattended with keys inside rose from 42 to 59 per cent in the last six years, Johnson said. Of these, 76 per cent had unlocked doors.

Nearly 17 per cent of all stolen vehicles was involved in accidents some 200 times the overall national accident rate. Most accidents occurred a few hours after the theft.

Outstanding in this national problem is the fact that of those arrested for auto theft, 64 per cent were youths 18 years and under.

Last year one out of every 125 registered vehicles was stolen in this country. Statistics show, Johnson stated, that 90 per cent of all stolen vehicles is recovered, but it costs an average $200 to return the car to good operating condition.

Johnson urged all motorists to become more fully aware of the seriousness of the auto theft problem and join in the Justice Department's campaign to "Remove Your Keys--Lock Your Car."
